Figure (a) shows the cumulative fraction of missed changes with respect to the duration of the previous path in hours, for two methods: FastMapping (solid line) and DTrack (dashed line). The graph indicates that FastMapping has a lower cumulative fraction of missed changes compared to DTrack at longer durations.