

VerifyCatalogFormAction.java

```
1 package controller.action;
2
3 import java.util.ArrayList;
13
14 public class VerifyCatalogFormAction implements ControllerAction {
15
16     @Override
17     public void execute(HttpServletRequest request, HttpServletResponse response) {
18         String[] productsIds = request.getParameterValues("productsIds");
19
20         if (productsIds == null) {
21             request.setAttribute("message", " ERROR: You must select at least a product!");
22
23             GoToAction responseAction = new GoToAction("response.jsp");
24             responseAction.execute(request, response);
25         }
26
27         else {
28             getProductList(request, productsIds);
29
30             GoToAction checkoutAction = new GoToAction("checkout.jsp");
31             checkoutAction.execute(request, response);
32         }
33     }
34
35     private void getProductList(HttpServletRequest request, String[] productsIds) {
36         ServletContext context = request.getSession().getServletContext();
37         ProductRepository productRepository = (ProductRepository)
context.getAttribute("productRepository");
38
39         List<Product> products = new ArrayList();
40
41         for (String productId : productsIds) {
42             products.add(productRepository.findProductById((Long.valueOf (productId))));
43         }
44
45         HttpSession session = request.getSession();
46         session.setAttribute("products", products);
47     }
48 }
```